Question 4 of 5

Person A:

I just have too much work that I don't have much free time for myself. This tight schedule makes it impossible for me to join in the park cleaning. I work all week, and the only time I go out is on weekends with my family. We usually visit the park to play games and take a walk. I am relieved to hear that the park will be cleaned by the children volunteering from the school nearby. I believe these experiences will benefit them in the future, helping them sharpen skills needed for their future careers.

Person B:

I adore the gorgeous scenery and fresh air at the park. Therefore, I always bring my family to the park to relax. My husband and I are always willing to do some volunteer work, so I will ask my husband to help out since he usually doesn't do much anyway. I will make specific plans for everyone in the neighborhood to follow so the park could be cleaned in no time.

Person C:

The park plays an important role in teaching children about responsibility through volunteering. Cleaning the local park not only helps keep the environment clean but also teaches kids the value of teamwork and dedication. We admire their efforts to protect nature, whether it's picking up trash or planting flowers. Volunteering is a great way for children to improve their skills and mindset while making a positive impact on our community.

Person D:

This is a reminder that not just the park, but other areas in our town also need regular cleaning. Keeping our neighborhoods clean is important for a healthy environment. The community should work together to organize cleaning events more often, as ignoring trash can harm wildlife and make the area unpleasant. By joining these efforts, residents can take pride in their surroundings and make sure everyone has a nice place to enjoy.

- Who thinks the park is a beautiful place to relax? Person B

Question 4:

Ali:

I went to this island to visit some remote beaches. I thought walking shoes would be helpful. However, when I arrived, I realized that I had forgotten to bring them. The remoteness means there are no other visitors. It is good, but it has its downside. There is nowhere to buy food and drink, so I have to bring my own.

Bruno:

Being an architect, when I go abroad, I am very curious about the construction of local buildings. I often lay down at the beach and buy some souvenirs at the local shop. This time, I traveled by taxi to go around. There is no one to share so the cost is high. However, it’s worth it because I could see some beautiful traditional houses.

Carla:

The sharp bends of the island look dangerous and that put me off hiring a car, especially when it is costly. Therefore, I chose to travel by bus. However, the bus service is not very frequent. If they improve it, it would be perfect. I visit some famous places near my hotel on foot. I love it because I can see many beautiful locations.

Deniz:

I stayed in a village and ate at various local restaurants. I cannot recommend a specific dish because everything was amazing. However, if you want to cook by yourself, you would need to take a bus to the town. There is a street market where you can buy some local products. I had some real bargains there.

- Who forgot something to bring? Ali
- Who thinks public transport should be improved? Carla
- Who liked the food? Deniz

Question 4 of 5

Question 4:

Person A:

A friend recommended the film because she had read the novel. I thought it was excellent, and I was captivated by the plot throughout, even though it was quite lengthy. All of the actors were outstanding, and the scenes where the zombies were finally defeated were amazing. The only thing I didn't like was my choice of viewing location. I should have gone out – it would have been much better on the big screen.

Person B:

This was a sequel, and I hadn't seen the prior film, so I have to admit I felt completely lost. I'm pleased I had company. Luckily, my friend was able to explain who the characters were. There were some aspects I liked – the special effects, for example, were impressive, and the soundtrack was lovely. I would definitely recommend it to people who enjoy feeling scared, but personally, films like this don't frighten me. I think I'll stick to romantic movies in the future.

Person C:

Unfortunately, it wasn't as good as I expected. The written version was terrifying but also thrilling. However, I ended up feeling bored while watching the film. The acting was rather uninspiring, and two and a half hours was excessive. I reckon the story could have been told in half the time. It was definitely better on the page than on the screen. Furthermore, cinema tickets are so costly these days. To be honest, I wish I hadn't wasted my money!

Person D:

This was actually my second time watching it, but even though I knew what to expect, I still felt scared whenever a zombie attack happened. The direction really makes it feel like you are right there in the room with the characters. Being familiar with the film didn't make it easier! I was so relieved when my friend called after I got home so that I could chat about ordinary things and forget about it. Otherwise, I might have had nightmares!

Answers:

- Who thought the film was too long? Person C
- Who saw the film previously? Person D
- Who watched the film at home? Person A
- Who has read the book about the film? Person C
- Who liked the story of the film? Person A
- Who found the film scary? Person D
- Who saw the film with a friend? Person B

Question 4:

Person A:

The menu I read has a lot of good reviews online, and I decided to try it out. The prices are reasonable, and the food is good and varied. My favorite part is the starters – there are so many things that I don’t know what to choose from. My only criticism is the noise level. The live show was excellent, but the volume was a bit low; they should turn it up next time. Despite that, I enjoyed the food and the show overall.

Person B:

I’m not sure if I’ll return to it. The staff seemed like they just had an argument, making the atmosphere unpleasant. Maybe they had a rough day. I ordered fish and chips. It is not bad but not good either. People said this restaurant was excellent, but my experience might be an exception.

Person C:

I was looking forward to visiting this restaurant, but my first visit left me certain that I won't come back. The staff wasn’t friendly at all, and while the meal was huge, it made me question whether that was a good sign. The traditional style of the food didn’t match the modern décor, creating an odd experience that I don’t want to repeat. Additionally, the food was too expensive.

Person D:

The newspaper I saw has lots of appetizing food. Unfortunately, on the day I arrived, I came late, so I couldn't order dinner. However, the drinks here were great. I tried a mango drink, and it was delicious. The background music was just right, and the decor matched the atmosphere perfectly. Overall, it was great; I'll definitely come back on time next time to try their food.

Question 4 of 5

Question 4:

Person A:

Originally, the city planners promised money for building a hospital initially. I don't understand why they switched to constructing a new station then. This new station won't solve the traffic jams, and it will require the city's budget every year. Therefore, we won't have money left to build a hospital while health should be a priority. I believe it's better to invest in health services instead.

Person B:

The new station will be in the residential area, close to the hospital and university. We already have buses for getting around, and even though they might be slow sometimes, that's not a reason for being late. I always go to work on time, and I think everyone should work on their personal schedule. People often blame traffic for being late, but I manage to avoid that.

Person C:

I take the train to work every day, and I am tired of the overcrowded trains. I believe investing in a new station is worthwhile, as it could enhance the transportation system and alleviate congestion at the current station. We should consider placing the new station in densely populated residential areas, as this would improve train travel and help reduce crowding.

Person D:

The city planners say that investing in a new station may not be necessary. Both the current station and the bus services appear to work well. Although I don't use trains regularly, I have found the service to be satisfactory whenever I do. The existing facilities are adequate, and I don't see a pressing need to spend money on a new station at this time.

Answers:

- Who thinks that better medical facilities are needed? Person A
- Who thinks that the bus is too busy? Person C
- Who thinks that people should plan their journey better? Person B

Part 4. TOPIC: VOLUNTEERING TO CLEAN A LOCAL PARK

A: I feel very lucky to have this park here. My family and I often go to the park because of the natural landscape here. It's different from the city, which is very busy and full of dust. Unfortunately, I am away this weekend so I cannot help with the cleaning. However, I know my brother and his friends will be very interested in this cleanup so I will ask them if they can help.

B: I'm a very busy person and I have to spend this weekend with my family because I only have the weekend as free time. I think young people who don't have families should help. Besides, students and schools also have days off on weekends. I think this volunteering will be very helpful for students' future careers.

C: I think this volunteering is a good idea but it doesn't have a long-term vision. When volunteers clean up the park, it will be clean, but it will become busy again after about a month when tourist season arrives. I think we should clean this park regularly about once a month. Surrounding areas such as the lake and local forest should also be cleaned up. We should also have signs telling visitors to clean up their trash. I am very upset when I see a lot of trash on both sides of the road.

D: My family and I often spend time at the park. My children love going to the park and they find the park a very interesting place to visit. My son has a dream of becoming a biologist so I think cleaning up this park will be very helpful for my son. I think we should pique children's interest in cleaning. They will be more willing to volunteer and help others.

- 2. Who thinks volunteering will help with future employment? B
- 3. Who thinks local areas need cleaning? C

Person A:

I know the names of some famous artists, and I recognize some paintings. However, I only go to exhibitions when my friends want to. I find that seeing exhibitions is often boring, and while I appreciate the skill it takes to create art, I can't help but feel that many galleries lack excitement. Despite this, I do have some artistic techniques myself; I enjoy painting in my free time, but I prefer to create rather than just observe.

Person B:

I think that looking at art is a personal experience. I much prefer to see art on my own, where I can take my time to appreciate each piece without distractions. I think visitors to galleries should focus more on the art itself rather than chatting or using their phones. When I'm alone with a painting, I can truly connect with it and reflect on what the artist intended.

Person C:

I find art fascinating. I have developed a good knowledge about various art movements and techniques over the years. Each piece tells a story, and I love discovering the history behind them. The colors, forms, and emotions captured in art pieces captivate my imagination. I could spend hours discussing and analyzing art, and I always look forward to learning more.

Person D:

I have great memories associated with art, as I have been going to numerous art exhibitions in my whole life. I cherish the moments spent with friends and family, exploring galleries together. Seeing art with people close to me adds a special dimension to the experience; we share our thoughts and feelings about the pieces we encounter. These shared experiences have created lasting bonds and wonderful memories.

Part 4:

A: I have a dream that I work as a tour guide. So I understand that I will have to fly to other countries. In my personal opinion, airplanes are currently too cheap compared to the damage they cause to the environment, so I believe we should add taxes to airline ticket prices to make people choose to use other means of transport before they think about flying. I believe that people are also very happy when they can contribute to protecting the environment.

B: My family and siblings live quite far from me. So I often have to fly to visit them every month when I have time. We really appreciate the time we spend together and we are happy to be able to meet each other and share our new story. I know that travelling by plane too much is not good for the environment so I often shop online or go to work by bike instead of going by car or I reuse plastic bags and paper bags. In addition, I sometimes volunteer to clean up trash in the neighbourhood.

C: I was a businessman so I had to fly many times a week. I had to go to other countries to be able to sign wine trading contracts with them. I feel very tired every time I have to fly. Now, my sister and I, whenever we have free time, take the train together and we enjoy that time very much because I can travel while sightseeing and relax without any stress.

D: If I have to go somewhere I will choose other means of public transport, not the plane. Question 4:

Person A:

I used to fly to Italy every summer for my wine trade, where I enjoyed relaxing while traveling and tasting some of the finest wines. For me, visiting vineyards and connecting with local producers was not just about business; it was a chance to unwind and appreciate the beautiful landscapes. My travels allowed me to immerse myself in different cultures, making my work even more fulfilling.

Person B:

People find it strange that I dislike flying, especially as a travel blogger who frequently needs to fly for my work. Despite the excitement of discovering new destinations, I think that flying is a bad experience overall, with long security lines and cramped seats. I often share tips with my followers about finding alternative travel options, like road trips, that allow for more enjoyable and flexible adventures.

Person C:

Personally, I have mixed feelings about flying. While I want to work as a tour guide in other countries to share my love for travel with others, I also dread the uncomfortable experience of air travel. I even suggest increasing the flight ticket price to reduce the number of flights, making travel a more thoughtful experience that allows people to appreciate their journeys.

Person D:

My son and his family live far from me, so I visit relatives regularly by plane. I know this is harmful to the environment, but there are other things that I do in order to protect our nature. I usually walk or cycle to local grocery stores instead of driving, and I limit my use of plastic as much as possible. I believe that small actions like these contribute to a healthier planet and set a good example for my family.

Unfortunately, I am away this weekend so I cannot help with the cleaning. However, I know my brother and his friends will be very interested in this cleanup so I will ask them if they can help.

B: I'm a very busy person and I have to spend this weekend with my family because I only have the weekend as free time. I think young people who don't have families should help. Besides, students and schools also have days off on weekends. I think this volunteering will be very helpful for students' future careers.

C: I think this volunteering is a good idea but it doesn't have a long-term vision. When volunteers clean up the park, it will be clean, but it will become busy again after about a month when tourist season arrives. I think we should clean this park regularly about once a month. Surrounding areas such as the lake and local forest should also be cleaned up. We should also have signs telling visitors to clean up their trash. I am very upset when I see a lot of trash on both sides of the road.

A: I feel very lucky to have this park here. My family and I often go to the park because of the natural landscape here. It's different from the city, which is very busy and full of dust. Unfortunately, I am away this weekend so I cannot help with the cleaning. However, I know my brother and his friends will be very interested in this cleanup so I will ask them if they can help.

B: I'm a very busy person and I have to spend this weekend with my family because I only have the weekend as free time. I think young people who don't have families should help. Besides, students and schools also have days off on weekends. I think this volunteering will be very helpful for students' future careers.

C: I think this volunteering is a good idea but it doesn't have a long-term vision. When volunteers clean up the park, it will be clean, but it will become busy again after about a month when tourist season arrives. I think we should clean this park regularly about once a month. Surrounding areas such as the lake and local forest should also be cleaned up. Visitors should also have signs telling visitors to clean up their trash. I am very upset when I see a lot of trash on both sides of the road.

D: My family and I often spend time at the park. My children love going to the park and they find the park a very interesting place to visit. Question 4 of 5

Part 4. TOPIC: VOLUNTEERING TO CLEAN A LOCAL PARK

A: I feel very lucky to have this park here. My family and I often go to the park because of the natural landscape here. It's different from the city, which is very busy and full of dust. Unfortunately, I am away this weekend so I cannot help with the cleaning. However, I know my brother and his friends will be very interested in this cleanup so I will ask them if they can help.

B: I'm a very busy person and I have to spend this weekend with my family because I only have the weekend as free time. I think young people who don't have families should help. Besides, students and schools also have days off on weekends. I think this volunteering will be very helpful for students' future careers.

C: I think this volunteering is a good idea but it doesn't have a long-term vision. When volunteers clean up the park, it will be clean, but it will become busy again after about a month when tourist season arrives. I think we should clean this park regularly about once a month. Surrounding areas such as the lake and local forest should also be cleaned up. We should also have signs telling visitors to clean up their trash. I am very upset when I see a lot of trash on both sides of the road.

D: My family and I often spend time at the park. My children love going to the park and they find the park a very interesting place to visit. My son has a dream of becoming a biologist so I think cleaning up this park will be very helpful for my son. I think we should pique children's interest in cleaning. Question 4 of 5

Question 4:

Person A:

Originally, the city planners promised money for building a hospital initially. I don't understand why they switched to construct a new station then. This new station won't solve the traffic jams, and it will require the city's budget every year. Therefore, we won't have money left to build a hospital while health should be a priority. I believe it's better to invest in health services instead.

Person B:

The new station will be in the residential area, close to the hospital and university. We already have buses for getting around, and even though they might be slow sometimes, that's not a reason for being late. I always go to work on time, and I think everyone should work on their personal schedule. People often blame traffic for being late, but I manage to avoid that.

Person C:

I take the train to work every day, and I am tired of the overcrowded trains. I believe investing in a new station is worthwhile, as it could enhance the transportation system and alleviate congestion at the current station. We should consider placing the new station in densely populated residential areas, as this would improve train travel and help reduce crowding.

Person D:

The city planners say that investing in a new station may not be necessary. Both the current station and the bus services appear to work well. Although I don't use trains regularly, I have found the service to be satisfactory whenever I do. The existing facilities are adequate, and I don't see a pressing need to spend money on a new station at this time.

Answers:

- Who thinks that better medical facilities are needed? Person A
- Who thinks that the bus is too busy? Person C
- Who thinks that people should plan their journey better? Person B

Question 4 of 5

Question 4:

Person A:

As we get older, it's easier to forget things. This is especially true when it comes to working out, particularly when it gets difficult. By this, I don't mean preparing for things like long-distance events, but rather the routines and workouts we do regularly. To truly gain from these, they need to be done frequently, and ideally at the same time each day. In this way, it becomes an enjoyable and healthy routine.

Person B:

Having someone by our side can help us when we just don't feel motivated to exercise. Quite often in this situation, we don't need expert assistance at the local gym. We just need a little extra encouragement from someone who knows us and understands how to motivate us. Afterwards, we can discuss our aching muscles, and it's a great opportunity to enjoy a nutritious meal together. This also plays a role in restoring energy to our bodies.

Person C:

The whole motivation behind doing sport is the benefit for the body. Some people with unhealthy diets want to lose weight, so they constantly push themselves to the extreme. Perspectives on fitness, including frequency and intensity, have evolved. However, it's better to pay attention to what your body is telling you and take a break if needed. If you're uncertain, consult a trainer at the local fitness center.

Person D:

The body and the relationship we have with it changes with time. When we're older, it's different from how it was in our younger years. However, this doesn't mean that people should stop being active. Of course, the exercise needs to be gentler and less physically demanding than what we did in school. Older adults simply don't need to compete or burn off the extra energy that young people often have.

Answers:

- Who thinks a routine can help us do more sport? Person A
- Who thinks experiencing pain is not necessary? Person C
- Who thinks competitions are not useful for everybody? Person D
- Who thinks working out with a friend is a good idea? Person B

- Who thinks eating proper food is very important? Person B

Question 4 of 5

Question 4:

A:

In my house, the TV is always on, and I watch whatever is playing because it's my way of staying entertained. However, sometimes I come across a really interesting series, and I can't stop constantly keeping up with it. That's how I entertain myself every day.

B:

I was never good at school because my grades were always low. However, I can remember a lot of practical things from watching TV. For me, it's a great way to expand my understanding of the world, and I believe it will be more useful when I graduate than the dry, theoretical knowledge we learn in school.

C:

I don't watch television much lately because I find most reality shows to be pretty stupid. I realized they’re all scripted, and the actors just follow a set plan. Once I learned that, I stopped watching those kinds of shows altogether. I switched to watching football instead, but my favorite team keeps losing, so I lost interest in that too.

D:

I probably spend far too long just watching the series "Friends." The characters are so funny, and I find myself laughing out loud in every episode. Question 4 of 5

Question 4:

A:

I have a limited budget for holidays because I am a student, so I usually choose to travel nearby or to places within the country. Because of this, I haven’t had the opportunity to travel abroad yet. I'm working on earning more, and hopefully, in the future, I'll be able to explore other countries. That will be my first time traveling overseas.

B:

I once went on a hiking holiday, and it was a disaster. The weather was terrible, and I wasn't as prepared as I thought. I used to enjoy walking a lot, going on trails and exploring nature whenever I had the chance. However, now that I'm retired, my preferences have changed. I find more comfort in staying at home, reading, or spending time with family.

C:

Before I go on holiday, I always get a guidebook so I won’t miss out on any important places. I find beach trips boring and always avoid them. Instead, I prefer researching tourist attractions ahead of time and visiting those interesting spots. Exploring new places and learning about their history and culture is what makes travel exciting for me.

D:

I want to relax when I'm on holiday, and I disagree with those who say going to the beach is boring. Last year, a friend invited me on a hiking trip, but I declined.
